St. Mark's 2004

Frontiers in Intestinal and Colorectal Disease

Second Annual International Congress
1st-3rd December 2004

Following on from last year's success we look forward to welcoming you to the 2004 meeting for specialists in lower gastrointestinal disorders. The meeting will be one of the most important of the year for those in the field. An exciting new collaboration with our broadcast partner, Global Medical Education (GME) will introduce interactive live satellite links between the Congress sessions and theatres and endoscopy at St. Mark's.

The meeting will be at one of the newest and largest conference hotels in London, The Hilton Metropole. This hotel is only a stone's throw from Heathrow Express at Paddington, and within walking distance of the west-end shops. The congress will be at a time ideal for Christmas shopping and will benefit from all that London has to offer at this time of year.

Social Programme:

Gala Dinner at The Banqueting House

- The Banqueting House is all that remains of Whitehall Palace, the sovereign's principal residence from 1530 until 1698 when it was destroyed by fire. Renowned for its architecture and painting, the building is also famous for being the scene of King Charles I's execution.
- The gala dinner will take place in the magnificent dining hall with its painted canvases by Peter Paul Rubens which were added to the building's ceiling in 1636.

The evening should be spectacular. Tickets are included in the three day package but as availability is limited these will be allocated on a first come first served basis.
